Don't Be Late In '48

By PAUL D. EMMONS

Well, add South America to the list of countries where the Communists are trying to push us off the map.

The revolution in Bogota was in all probability Communist inspired and timed to do us the greatest amount of damage at the worst possible time. It cannot be regarded as anything else than a defeat for American democracy, and possibly an expose of the ineptitude of American diplomacy.

There seems to be something cockeyed somewhere in our handling of international relations. Whether it is due to ineptitude or whether there is a jinx on our trail is hard for an outsider to determine.

Certainly the jinx rides high if that's the real cause of the trouble.

If ineptitude is the trouble, the finger of suspicion would seem to point to General George C. Marshall as the cause of our difficulties.

Up to date he seems to have been a complete flop as Secretary of State in his handling of our foreign relations. Nowhere has he had any success.

He spent months in China, trying to straighten things out there and came back to report absolutely no progress. Perhaps that is just as well if what Senator Taft says about him is true.

Taft, on the radio, has declared that Marshall tried to get Chiang Kaishek to take the Communists into his cabinet on a coalition government basis, and that had the Generalissimo done so the stage would simply have been set for a Communist coup similar to the recent one in Czecho Slovakia. But that Chaing had sense enough to say no, and stick to it.

If this story be true, what shall we say about Marshall's foresight and wisdom as a diplomat?

Later, when Marshall went to Moscow to attend as our representative the great international conference held there, he had just one chance of arriving at a workable agreement with Russia. That (as already indicated in this column) was by going directly to Uncle Joe Stalin before any other meetings had been held, sitting down with him, saying directly, as one man to another, "Here, Joe, what can we do to straighten things out?"

Instead of that he held aloof until a series of formal conferences, held between all the representatives in due course, had messed things all up, and then, when he finally did get to see Stalin, he accomplished nothing.

He was criticized afterwards for his aloofness, and lately one of our senators has criticized him for being pompous.

If he really has these two defects he certainly is not fitted for the vitally important job he is now holding.

A question now rises as to whether or not our State Department muffed it by agreeing to hold this Pan American conference in Bogota. Apparently none of our crowd had any reliable advance information as to what the real political conditions down there might be.

Drew Pearson says there had recently been a switch in our intelligence department. The FBI had been told to keep their men out of South America and the job of obtaining intelligence down there had been turned over to a lot of greenhorns who knew nothing about local conditions.

If that report is true it's another indication that something's wrong somewhere.

Public Health Conference

The open house afternoon last Tuesday at the Wall Baby Conference on Mt. Vernon St. demonstrated the work being done by the Conference, under the Wilmington Health Department, to keep the standards of health among preschool age children high in Wilmington.

More than 200 children registered with the conference and examined regularly on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons by Dr. Roger M. Bourgeois and Miss Hilda Hope, R.N. During a typical afternoon at the Conference, 10 children, ranging from a few weeks to five years old, are given through physical and dental examinations and their weights and vaccinations noted on each child. Although the number of examinations during an afternoon session are normally as many as 25, the visits are ordinarily scheduled to provide a maximum amount of time for each examination.

Presiding over the conference is affiliated Nurse Hope, former Army Nurse, who can answer both doctors of almost every pre-school age child in Winchester Out of Miss Hope's experience in the conferences has grown one of the most popular activities with the young mothers. Noting that children would often grow tired and sometimes irritable while waiting for their turns, Miss Hope scouted up a large second hand rocking chair and had it cut down to stand a few feet off the ground. Begging a ball a dozen tiny chairs from the school department she had them painted a bright yellow, and then made it known that the conference was seeking toys for the youngsters. Winchester Girl Scouts and many other residents responded with toy donations. Now the conference has the appearance of a children's nursery as the tots lose their fear of the strange surroundings while they play.

Born in Nova Scotia, Miss Hope received her professional training at St. Vincent's in Halifax and at Turner Hospital. She has done special work with the Montreal General Hospital and completed the public health work at Simmons College, School of Nursing.

Her three years with the Army Nurses Corps sent her to the isolated Hudson Bay area, just above the tree line, where she and nine other army nurses worked before she was sent overseas to England. She remained in England during the remainder of the war until returning to the country in Dec., 1945.

Miss Hope points out that the purpose of the conference is not to treat sick children, but to keep health standards high. General health supervisions including dental examinations, and habit training are done on Tuesdays and Thursdays. They are devoted to examinations and pre-school physicals.

The Winchester Branch of M. S. P. C. A., will hold its April meeting Tuesday afternoon, April 20, at 2:00 o'clock at the home of its President, Mrs. George E. Cosper, 103 Main Street. There will be a business meeting and reports, followed by a social tea. Because of the change of date from Thursday to Tuesday, members are urged to save that day of April 20th for this meeting.

The Home and Garden Club of Winchester will meet Wednesday afternoon, April 21, at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Harold M. Twamley, 16 Lawns Road.

Attending the meeting were: Mrs. Green, Mrs. Emerson, Mrs. Alden B. Hersey, Mrs. Sears Walker, and Mrs. Frederick B. Wilkinson, Co-chairman with Mrs. Emerson of the Winchester Group for Mount Holyoke Society. Mrs. James R. Allen is Chairman of the Committee for the Mount Holyoke Society.

Pledges were made for the Faculty Endowment and plans were outlined for contacting new members for the "Living Endowment" plan by which anyone who is interested in the aims and ideals of Mount Holyoke Society may become a member.

Most common of the questions asked by curious citizens who have been watching the sets at the Winchester Appliance Co. during the past few weeks, is "How does it work?"

Owners of rather forbidding technical explanations going down to the problem. "Do you know how to operate the radio set you have in your own home?" is the other special talent is needed.

The two World War II army vets sum up the answers to the most persistant questions in something like this. The subject to be televised is photographed by an electronic television camera which is picked up by a television receiver and recreated on the television set televised in the photographer by an electronic television camera which screen. All this is done by means of an electron tube that puts the light rays from the object on the air and converts them to electrical impulses. Those impulses are reconverted by the television receivers tubes in your own set. The sound is broadcast by regular microphones at the same time with the picture by means of frequency modulation which is amazingly static free.

Experts estimate that it cost less than one cent an hour to operate. Several of the models at the Appliance Company have short wave radios for regular programs, but these are not needed for the television broadcasts now on the air.

National Honor Society Awards

At a National Honor Society as- sembly on Friday, April 9, seventeen seniors and nine juniors were honored by being admitted into the organization. The assembly was opened by secretary Nonna Burpoint and was then handed over to president Roger Swanson who did a fine job of telling about the origin of the Society. Mr. Grindle then reported on the club and how it was installed in W. H. S. and the few laws and requirements.

The members are selected for their qualifications in Scholarship, Leadership, Service and Character. The installation then too place as Mr. Grindle called off the names of the newly-selected juniors. Since only 5 percent of that class can be admitted only 9 juniors could qualify which made it a hard choice. The members of the junior class are Dotty Buracker, Ruth Chipman, Peter Clark, Richard Cleary, Paul Dillingham, Judy Flanders, Ruth Merino, Margaret O'Leary and Robert Stinger. The senior class, from which not more than 15 per cent may be admitted had 17 members able to join.

Candles were lighted symbolizing the various characteristics required. Roger Swanson in the first one symbolizing the Society itself. Then Peter Sarokin, Janet Blackburn, John Holdsworth, and Judy Holmes lit the candles of Scholarship, Leadership, Service and Character after which they gave a short speech on each.

Dr. Norris, our superintendent of schools, talked for a short time on the Society and the honor which the newly-installed members had bestowed on them. The assembly was closed with the singing of the National Anthem, accompanied by the band.

Vaudeville Show

The vaudeville show drama- tic specials were staged on Monday Tuesday and Thursday, getting last minute instruction for the big event. The show is really colorful and the costumes are appropriately designed to fit each act. The girls sure have created their costumes Tuesday and they are something to see.

There has been an unusual a- mount of tickets sold for the show so far. Ticket chairman Bill Bellino reports that there will be a full house both nights. It's one of the best shows to be turned out for a long time, and you really shouldn't miss it.

Baseball Team

The Red and Black baseball team got off to a beautiful start by topping the preparatory school on Friday and Saturday, April 9 and 10, and winning them both by a very good margin.

The first contest, against Brown and Nichols, was just a practice season for the locals and they won it 3-0. On Saturday they downed the Wilmington nine 10 to 1. This is a pretty fair review of what we can expect for the coming season.

Ken Donahey and Bellino com- bined to spearhead the Winchester nine with fine playing being shown by the whole squad.

Vets Housing...

Two parcels of land on Middle- sex St. were subdivided into ten building lots, and fifteen more town-owned lots were allocated by the committee at first, all under the one dollar plan. Since then other lots have been made available. Winchester was the first community in this area to offer housing lots to veterans for one dollar.

Many of the veterans who now live in their new houses helped out on the building of them with their own labor. A few, being skilled carpenters, masons, etc. or just good handymen, contributed almost all the labor.

Bill Haggerty, Winchester's motorcycle policeman, did almost all the work on his new Middlesex St. home himself. He also had some help from friends and relatives.

Michael D. Barnes, who is a woman by profession, put in the foundation and fireplace of his Farrell St. home before her husband, Bernard E. Rehnberg, Winchester contractor, built the rest of the house.

Aubrey Dunn did a lot of work himself on his High St. home, and he was helped by relatives and local contractors.

George Murray, who is a cab- inet maker, built his Highland Ave. home himself with the help of James A. Violante, local contractor.

Two brother, Warren T. Bolivar and Robert A. Bolivar, built their homes on a parcel of land on Middlesex St. which no one thought anything could be built, because the M.D.C. sewer runs underneath it. Robert Bolivar, a draftsman, drew up plans for his brother's house which avoided the sewer and they were approved.

Mr. Bartley of the Housing com- mittee says that the Bolivar brothers have beautified land which once was a eyesore.

The Bolivar brothers' father, who is a carpenter, helped his sons with the building of their houses.

George D. Whitten has built a new house for himself on Somerset Rd. opposite the new Andover Hill School with the help of his father and relatives.

College Club Sets Annual Meeting Day

The Annual meeting of the Col- lege Club of Winchester will take place Monday evening, April 26, in Parish House, Church of the Epiphany, with a dessert and coffee, followed by the meeting and entertainment.

Mrs. J. Girard Chandler will pre- side at the business meeting, with Mrs. George Houle, chairman, of the evening study groups, in charge of program arrangements. A short play will be given by members of the Play Reading Group.

REPAIR FUND

A smorgasbord luncheon will be held next Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Jean J. Michelson, 6 Fairview Terrace, to benefit the Chair Repair Fund of the Unitarian Church. Mrs. Michelson and Mrs. Theodre Goldwin are in charge of reservations.

The most likely areas seem to be 25 acres owned by the town on Cross St. and 16 acres which now constitutes a sand pit adjoining Leonard Field. The possibility of levelling and conditioning this second area has to be investigated.

Under this state housing plan the Winchester Veterans Housing Committee will still be as busy as ever, or even more so, since the state only absorbs a portion of the expense. The town would still bear most of the cost and responsibility.

Fortnightly Names Mrs. Harold H. Given, President

Assembled at the annual meeting of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, a delegation from the Winchester Fortnightly last Monday at the Ultarian Church.

Mrs. Harold H. Given was elect- ed President and Mrs. Kenneth B. Hiscox, vice president, at the luncheon which the members attended at the Copley Plaza Hotel in Boston.

The annual meeting of the Federation is an all day affair which was preceded by a business session in the morning.

Mrs. Given, who succeeds Mrs. Harold P. Sawyer, is a member of the Fortnightly and has served as chairman of the Music Department, as chairman of the Winchester Fortnightly last May.

Mrs. Given is also a member of the Ultarian Church.

Mrs. Harold H. Given was elect- ed President and Mrs. Kenneth B. Hiscox, vice president, at the luncheon which the members attended at the Copley Plaza Hotel in Boston.

The annual meeting of the Federation is an all day affair which was preceded by a business session in the morning.

Mrs. Given, who succeeds Mrs. Harold P. Sawyer, is a member of the Fortnightly and has served as chairman of the Music Department, as chairman of the Winchester Fortnightly last May.

Mrs. Given is also a member of the Ultarian Church.

The tastefully luncheon was served under the direction of Mrs. Kingman P. Cass. Floral decorations of potted geraniums on the platform and huge bouquets of mixed spring flowers at the head table with yellow and white sweet peas on the other tables were arranged by Mrs. George Budd and the Courtesy Committee. Retiring President Mrs. Marshall W. Symons, Mrs. York, and Mrs. Hildebrand were presented gardenia corsages.

In the annual report, Mrs. George W. Cary, secretary, summarized the Fortnightly services and activities of the club and the committees. A program of accordian music was given by Hamel Cutting of Medford.

Retiring as president, Mrs. Sym- ons read a poem dedicated to the Fortnightly entitled, "Cross-roads."

"Then I thought of such cross- roads I've stood at,

There are many whose meanings is vague,

And among them I cherish those of my friends

Whom my friends of The Fort- nightly meet."

The slate of officers elected for the year include Mrs. Given, president; Mrs. Hiscox, vice president; Mrs. Sidney A. Barr, second vice president; Mrs. George W. Cary, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert H. Perkins corresponding secretary; and Mrs. William E. Priest, treasurer.

Other veterans contributed to varying amounts of labor in the building of their homes.

Alfred D. Elliot local builder built 12 on Middlesex st. for Winchester veterans; one on Wildwood rd. extention and on Brantwood rd. on privately owned land five garages, additional homes which were sold to local veterans.

The Veterans Housing Commit- tee did not handle the financing of these homes, but it did advise the veterans on their rights under the G.I. Bill and how to go about the financing. The Winchester Co-operative Bank handled much of the financing of these homes.

The committee meets every night at the public library from 7 to 9 o'clock. Veterans interested in buying or renting come to these meetings and discuss their problems with the committee members.

A veteran who wants to build a house has a private talk with one of the committeemen who then looks him over to look over the available lots. Wh e he chooses a lot it o assigned t h him. Th s be comes the property of the veteran which the committee has, or he may have some of his own.

The committee has some Barry Wills Cape-type and some Alfred Elliot plans on hand. Mr Allen, the architect on the committee, can give prospective builders some plans or others. Frank Horne of Winchester has also made some plans for veterans' homes. These plans are available to the veteran without cost.

Frank P. Hurley, the lawyer on the committee, has a first-hand personal knowledge of veterans' problems since he is a veteran of both World War I and II.

Winchester has less housing problems than most so-fortunate communities, if the results of the survey made by the housing committee when it first started operations furnish a criterion.

The Winchester committee will confer on the application of the bill to local problems when a complete form of the law is obtained.

Mr. Hurley has said that the question of available land for easy project and the actual need here will have to be decided by sons. Serving with committee from local veterans organizations.

ENJOY THE ADVANTAGES OF ELECTRIC COOKING

IT'S TASTY! There's new speed to modern electric cooking. Cooking starts at the turn of a switch.

IT'S ECONOMICAL! Electric rates bring real economy to electric cooking! Investigate and compare!

IT'S AUTOMATIC! G-E Oven Minder tends to the cooking while you are away. Turns oven ON and OFF, just as you want it.

IT'S COOL! A feature you'll appreciate on hot summer days. Electricity gives efficient heat— puts it into the food, not in the kitchen.

IT'S SAFE! Electric cooking is mealtime — and switches are located safely away from tiny curious hands.

IT'S CLEAN! Pots, pans, walls, draperies stay bright and spotless. No flame, soot or smoke.

Library Notes

At the Children's Room of the Winchester Public Library, in a large glass case by the stairway, there is a charming exhibit—of rabbits and rabbit-lore. There are rabbits on tiles, tea cloths, plates, and in book illustrations. There are delightful bunnies of porcelain and china and pottery—The Mad Hatter from Alice in Wonderful, and the pathetic little Peter Rabbit of nursery days. There is the bunny and the turtle, in book illustrations and in figures.
